CARPENTER—WHITESIDE.

At the home of the bride, in this city, Monday evening, at 8:30, Miss Louise Carpenter became the wife of Mr. C. B. Whiteside, of Tahlequah, Okla. The beautiful words which united this popular couple were said by Rev. G. W. Wilson, of the First Methodist Church.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present to witness the culmination of this happy romance. While simplicity was the keynote of the whole affair, the home was tastefully decorated with potted plants and presented a most exquisite effect.

After receiving the congratulations of those present, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside were driven to the depot where they boarded the 10:30 train for St. Louis to spend a few days. From there they go to Tahlequah to make their future home.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carpenter, and one of Hickman's sweetest and most charming young ladies—one who will grace any station in life and make a worthy companion. She is one of the few girls who have shunned the glamour of fastidious extremes and breathed the air of common sense and noble womanhood.

About the only bad thing that can be said of the groom is that he is in the newspaper business—being connected with the Tahlequah Herald. This he may overcome in time. Otherwise, he has "kept the commandments from his youth up," and stands high in business and social circles of his home town.

The Courier is certainly pleased to extend them our best wishes.

MOSES—BOWLING.

On the evening of Dec. 30, 1909, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. G. W. Wilson, Walter K. Bowling, now of Tracy City, Tenn., and Miss Maude Moses, of this city, were united in marriage.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Lon Ray, with whom she has made her home in this city, coming formerly from near Mayfield, Ky. During her stay here she made many friends and stood high in the social circles in which she moved.

Mr. Bowling is well known here, having been in the employ of Bradley & Parham for more than a year, and has many friends in this city. At present he is traveling for a wholesale grocery house out of Nashville. He is a splendid fellow, with hustling business qualities, a member of one of the best families of the South, and the Courier takes pleasure in extending the "glad hand" to Mr. and Mrs. Bowling.

They are now at home in Tracy City, Tenn.

LOST HIS OFFICE.

Esq. W. T. Shanklin, the popular magistrate of the west end of the county, was duly elected to the office of magistrate last November to succeed himself, but will not get to fill the place.

Esq. Shanklin failed to appear before County Judge Naylor to be sworn in on or before the first Monday in this month, the roads being in such bad shape that he could not get here until Tuesday. When he arrived, 24 hours late, he learned that the law declared his office vacant, and that his successor would have to be appointed by the governor. We understand that the law also forbids him receiving the appointment.

NOTICE.

We must insist on all accounts and notes, due us, or falling due be paid promptly, or they will be put in the hands of the officers for collection. There should be no excuse, with the existing high prices for corn and cotton.

Miss Mollie Bourne, who has had charge of the millinery department of Smith & Amberg, returned to her home in Union City last week.

Do You Carry Fire Insurance

Just think what you would have in case your property should go up in smoke, when if you carried a policy in one of my companies you would have something to start with again.

Don't put this matter off or you may be too late.

A CLAU A GOOD FELLOW STILL.

At this time last year, the readers of the Courier were forced to read a write-up of our partner's misadventure, and the fates have willed another done be given "Our Folks" this year.

At that time of the year, Claus undoubtedly had a hand in the consent of the bride, being Miss Myrtle Miller, groom, Mo., became the wife of the groom, junior editor of the Courier, at Mexico, Mo., Dec. 27th, Walter M. White, pastor of the Christian Church, officiating. Almost too soon after the event a very authentic version of the affair, but suffice to say that the couple are perfectly satisfied, and the first time in our editorial career that we have had the opportunity to tell of the meanness of men and the truth about the acrobatics of the bride and we to a good job.

The bride is a daughter of C. M. and wife, of Sturgeon, Mo., and also our former home, and one of the best families in the state. Until the day of the wedding, she was accredited as possessing excellent judgment, and who know us perhaps began to suspect that she was not so perfect. And it is a no small matter to share our troubles with an editor, as it is easy to see she has known her "ol' man" "barefoot days." But to be honest, she has an enormous amount of courage, which has just brought to a test.

The groom is not a politician, so under nor pillar in the church. He is a genius and has not mounted a horse of fame so high that he is isolated from his fellow-men. He is kept so busy endeavoring to keep out of the red at the moment, he has much time for dreaming and greatness. He purports to be an editor and as he intends to be in that profession, the chances are that he will always have to keep on speaking terms with the printer and grocer man.

C. Spear our partner, and his were the only friends that saw him done, after which the four of them went a few days in St. Louis.

Our credit can be established by the grocer man, we will be at a few days, having been doing for a stipulated sum, the use of L. F. Ellison's houses on all until we can make some lump sum and build a "lean-to" in Fern Heights.

Congratulations for the groom and the bride are at this time emphatically in order. Don't forget to renew your subscription. We need it now more than ever.
